

Raegan Bowyer
Grade 5
Urban Ink – Twin Falls
Danny Stewart

Life in a New Way

The cat wants to be a lion,
that strikes the final blow.
A girl wants to be a flower,
dancing in the breeze.
The flower wants to be a baby,
so people can admire its beauty.
The tree wants to be the fire,
that eats its brothers and sisters.
The dog wants to be its master,
to give every command
The mushroom wants to be a tree,
reaching out toward the sun.
A caterpillar wants to be a feather,
drifting in the breeze.
The horse wants to be the wind,
that travels on forever.
A pencil wants to be the hand,
that can bend anything to its command.
The sun wants to be a dragon,
engulfing everything in flames.
If you could choose to be anything, what would you be?