The Destiny of Hope: Attack of the Aliens

Once, a man named Simsi crashed his ship into a legendary cave planet. Simsi saw the moon. The moon turned into a cannonball, it shot toward him. He ducked – boom! It exploded into bursting light. It transformed into a golf cart. Simsi drove around to look for food until he stopped right in front of floating, slimy, fast aliens.

He threw off the motor. He felt the walls moving. He smelled raw meat. The top of the cave broke off. It was a larger one of the aliens' kind. He flew through a hole in his stomach. He went through the other side of his stomach. He went home and was free.
